

Anna PODPIATNIKOVA

THE DEVELOPMENT OF TRANSIT POTENTIAL IN UKRAINE: CURRENT TRENDS

The article is devoted to the improvement of organizational and economic mechanisms of development of transit potential of Ukraine. It is analyzed its current state of implementation and proved the important role of the state in development of transit transportations. Transit services have been classified in the public and private and detailed their components. It is shown that the effective implementation of transit potential will contribute to the growth of revenues to state and local budgets. The author is analyzed the transport and logistics providing, the state of network's development enterprises of roadside service. It has been proposed for meeting the needs of carriers, freight forwarders develop «The Programme of Development of Network of Roadside Service» and monitor their development. Proved that for investments in transport and logistics infrastructure it is necessary to develop public-private partnership. Established that minimizing of risks and simplify procedures for refund of means of private sector in case of loss of interest state or a representative of the state sector to realization public-private project will boost modernization of transport infrastructure.